The physicians of this city are preparing to fight any bill that may be introduced in the legislature for the appropriation of money with which to erect a medical college on the ground donated to the state by Dr. Bell, of Rosedale. About three months ago Dr. Bell gave the state ten acres of land situated near Rosedale, provided it would erect thereon a medical college as a branch of the state university, and also establish a hospital there. The donation was accepted by the chancellor of the state university and a bill has been drawn up providing for the appropriation of $100,000 for the construction of suitable buildings. The bill will, it is said, soon be introduced in the legislature.

a committee will be appointed to go to Topeka and see that the bill does not pass. This committee, so it is said, will give the members of the legislature some information which will completely kill the bill. The physicians claim that the donation by Dr. Bell was simply a land scheme, and that instead of the property being worth $100,000, as was reported, it would fight the appropriation is because of the action of Chancellor Snow in appointing a committee of Kansas City, Mo., men to take charge of the matter and try and get the appropriation made. This committee is composed of Mayor Webster Davis, tee is composed of Mayor Weisster Davis, Attorney John Sullivan and Dr. Tiffany. Just why the chancellor went outside of the state to select the committee is a question that is bothering the minds of every physician in this city, as well as in many other cities of the state, and also a number of the leading men here. a number of the leading men here. They claim that the chanceller made a serious mistake in not appointing citizens of Kansas to attend to the matter. They have no complaint to make concerning the men who were appointed, except that they are not residents of the state.

It is also claimed that the cation of a college in that place will b no benefit to the state whatever, and that Kansas City, Mo., will get all the benefit of the school by reason of its location. They say that Kansas will have to foot all the bills. The land donated by Dr. Bell is not easy of access to the people of this city or any other suburban city on Kansas soil, they say, and in order to reach it soil, they say, and in order to reach it one has to travel through Kansas Cliy, Mo., and make a large portion of the trip on a mule car.

Will Be Interesting.

One of the most interesting trials ever held in Justice Betts' court will be called next Saturday morning. The residents of Quindaro have been summoned as witnesses with a few exceptions and those not summoned will be present. The case grewout of the disturbance of a religious meeting some time ago in the famous old "Rock school" building. The boys arrested belong to prominent families and vigorously deny the offense with which they stand charged and have employed attorneys to defend them. The complaining witness is A. E. Harper, who is the head of the little school and president of the Lyccum Literary Society, which meets there. Each of the defendants is a member of the society. They are Folk Barker, Jr., Homer Brenner and Oscar Russell.

TITLE CONVEYED.

Judgment for the Plaintiff in the Case of Snodgrass Against Woodcock. Snodgrass Against Woodcock.

The case of Frank Snodgrass against Alien Woodcock, as guardian of Willis Flixpatrick, to foreclose a mortgage on some Rosedale property to satisfy a note of $1,500, was tried in the district court yesterday. This is the case where the defendant claimed to be a descendant of the Shawnee tribe of Indians and that under their treaty with the government they were not allowed to mortgage their property, and for this reason the mortgage was void. Judge Alden did not agree with the defendant, however, as he rendered a judgment for the plaintiff. The court held that when the secretary of the interior approved a deed to Indian land the Indian title was extinguished.

Provides for an Issue of Half a Billion in Bonds Payable in Coin.

Washington, Jan. 21—in Senator Jones' financial and currency bill, introduced today, authority is given the secretary of the treasury to have $500,000,000 of bonds, payable in coin of the present standard value, and hearing interest. The bonds are to mature thirty years from date and may be redecimed in twenty years. The proceeds of the bonds are to be used to defray current expenses of the government, and for the redemption of United States legal tender and treasury notes insued under the act of July 14, 189. The bonds are to be of denominations of $20 and $20, and multiples, and will be free from taxes. They must be paid for in gold or the secretary may accept United States notes and treasury notes ander the act of 180.

National banks may issue circulating notes to the amount of bonds deposited with the secretary of the treasury, and the tax on such circulation is reduced to one-quarter of 1 per cent.

Section 3 provides that no national bank shall retire its circulation, without written authority from the secretary of the treasury. Section 4 eave that national banks desiring to retire the whole or any part of their elevaliting notes are required to deposit gold coin equal to the amount of the notes to be retired and at all times to keep on deposit with the treasurer of the United States, in gold coin, a sum equal to 5 per cent of their circulating notes, to be used for the redemption of such notes.

Sections 6 and 7 provide for the displace ment of all national bank and United States treasury noise of denominations of less than $10 with silver cortificates.

STATE BANK INSPECTOR. A Bill Introduced in the Missouri House

Baying That End in View. Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 23.— (Special) Hon. William S. Marsh, of Clinton couny, has introduced in the house a bill providing for state bank inspection. Mr.
Marsh is a farmer, but he is also a banker, heing president of the Holt bank, of Clay His bill is a careful condensation of the set provisions of the Massachusetts and sew York banking laws, and an application thereof to the conditions and laws of lissour. It does not attempt to change he general laws on banking, leaving that a separate bills as they may be suggested. It does not include any see ices not include any corporations ex banks, and it carefully avoids placing cept banks, and it carefully avoids placing arbitrary power in the hands of any officer whatever. It places the control of the inspection in the hands of the secretary of state, because all of the office work necessary to the execution of the law is already done by that officer, and no additional expense will ensure therefrom, the banks paying for the inspections made. The secretary of state is empowered to appoint inspections of come. an be appointed receiver. If banks are ut of line the secretary of state notifies hem at once to comply with safety, and to law.

If they fall to do so it is his duty to soffly the attorney general, whose duty it seconds to proceed against tnem, and the sowers and duties of the court are defined. The bill has been carefully draws. and in view of the opposition to the crea-ton of new officers, will be apt to become the law, if any state inspection at all is provided.

ON JOINT APPLICATION.

SEPARATE RECEIVERS FOR A LINE OWNED BY TWO COMPANIES.

Hiram P. Dillon in Charge of the Manhattan Alma & Burlingame-Aggressive Policy to He Pursued by the Lake Shore Road.

Joint application of the holders of the first mortgage bonds of the Manhattan, Alma & Burlingame, the stock of which is owned Jointly by the Atchison, Topela & Santa Fe and Union Pacific receiverships, Mr. Hiram P. Dillon has been appointed receiver of that road in a suit brought to foreclose the mortgages, the object being to clear the title for the purpose of the pending reorganization of the two interested companies. The separate receivership is established chiefly for the convenience of the two receiverships interested therein and by a mutual satisfactory arrangement between them and no change will be male.

te-night locally says: There is a great deal of unwritten history connected deal of unwritten history connected with the recent foreclosure suit brought by the trustees of the first mortgage bends of the Union Pacific in St. Louis last week. As early as last July Judge Sanborn intimated to the trustees of the first mortgage bonds that an action in foreclosure would have to be brought in order to keep the stockholders' interest in the property subject to the direction of the court, otherwise the court might decide to transfer the direction of the property back to the control of the company. There are many contracts which in the present depressed condition of business operate against the advancement of the Union Pacific system, and it has become essentially necessary to have these contracts amended or revised it has become essentially necessity to have these contracts amended or revised along lines favorable to one of the parties, at least, to the contract. This could not be done without foreclosure, and in order to clear the decks for reggnization it was decided to bring a suit in foreclosure, which would have been necessary under any circumstances, if a readjustment of present difficulties was at all desirable.

As these suits in foreclosure are brought upon various lines and the present receivers are appointed under the bills of complaint, the old suits brought by the stockholders begin to grow less burdensome and finally the receivers under the new suits cease to the bills of complaint, the old suits brought by the stockholders begin to grow less burdensome and finally the receivers under the new suits crase to have any interest in the old cases and they are removed from court, so to speak. Under foreclosure suits the carnings are kept separate, the court directs what use is to be made of certain funds and gradually the end approaches when the property is to be offered for sale. So the grind of the court reduces the many complications until the final run is made, when the property is in a position to be taken for its actual value in reorganization.

It is pretty generally understood that all the foreclosure proceedings brought on the various properties formerly constituting the Union Pacific system will be pushed rapidly to final adjudication in order that the reorganization committee may have something to work upon in reorganizing what once was the greatest railroad property in the coun-

Spikes.

Spikes.

Mr. H. A. Lloyd, secretary and purchas-ing agent of the Wabash Railroad Com-pany, with headquarters in St. Louis, was at the Coates Iloues yesterday. A circular issued by the Lake Shoro Ratiway Company announces the formal appointment of R. H. Hill as auditor of that road. Mr. Hill has been the action auditor of the company since the death of Mr. C. P. Leland several months ago. The same circular announces the appointment of M. C. Tully as auditor of freight receipts.

At a meeting of the executive board of the directors of the Union Pacific railroad the directors of the thinn Pacific railroad the foreclosure suit brought at St. Louis by the first mortgage bondholders was discussed and a resolution was adopted instructing the company's counsel to take such steps in the future conduct of the case as would best subserve the interests of the stockholders.
